Time for a Sprinkler System Start-Up?

Depending on your type of sprinkler system and the components involved, your start-up process may require different steps — but the typical steps of a sprinkler start-up are:

- Checking Your System Controllers: It's important to clean away debris, check for repairs and replace your controller batteries, if necessary.
- Checking Sprinkler Heads and Nozzles: Clean up dirt, check for clogs, clear away debris and check for damage to your nozzles and sprinkler heads before start-up.
- Inspecting Valves and Pipes: Look for leaks or signs of damage in your above-ground hardware before opening up your valves. You should turn on your system slowly to introduce water without causing pressure surges.
- Setting Timers: Program your system's timers to ensure your watering occurs on a set schedule.

If you are not already signed up for an annual Spring Start-Up, please give us a call, email, or send a Request for Service. We are happy to help in whatever way we can!
